Secret of Beef Prices.

If the consumer who buys beef ribs and loins is paying as much as he did at this time last year, the retailer is taking an extra profit of about 25 per cent., according to General Manager Howe, of Armour & Co.

These commodities, he says, are being sold by the packers at 25 per cent. under last year's prices. Pork is being sold by the wholesalers to the retailers at more than ten per cent. reduction.

These lower prices have been in effect several months, but reports from several cities indicate no reduction to the consumer.

Comparisons of wholesale prices now and this time last year show the following: No. one rib, per pound in '12, 25c; '13, 18c; No. one loin, per pound, last year, 28c; this year, 20c; pork per pound in '12, 20c; this year, 17 1/2c.

Body of Dr. Bowman Removed To Richmond.

The remains of the late Dr. Sel Bowman, a prominent physician who departed this life at his home at Pryse in 1891, was exhumed on the 27th ult. and removed to a lot in the Richmond Cemetery, recently purchased by his heirs. The work of removing the body was done by Robt. Golden, of Richmond, under the supervision of Mr. Charles Bowman, son of the deceased. The remains of Dr. Bowman laid overnight in his old home, now owned and occupied by Mr. Dillard Williams.—Estill Tribune.

Pardon Asked For Slayer Of Mullins.

Edward Morrow, of Covington, U. S. Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky, was in Washington last week to ask the Attorney General to recommend that a pardon be granted Berry Simpson, of Stearns, who is serving a life sentence in the Federal prison at Atlanta on a charge of conspiracy. Simpson was convicted four years ago in the Federal court in this city, charged with being instigator of a riot at Stearns, in which Deputy U. S. Marshal Jno. Mullins was killed.

The Suggestions of The News Approved.

The Elizabethtown News says: The News is in receipt of letters and personal messages from various parts of Kentucky heartily endorsing its recent editorial suggesting the way to solve our tax problems in Kentucky. There is a most universal agreement as to one of the suggestions contained in the editorial columns of the News, to wit: Providing for a State commission, with entire control over the matter of assessment. There is also practically a unanimous opinion, from those who have written us on the subject, that at present the real and personal property of the State is not assessed at more than 35 per cent. of its cash value. Less than 5 per cent. of the people are actually giving in their property at its cash value, while the other 95 per cent. are giving it in from 75 per cent. down to 20 per cent. This is absolutely unjust and unequal and the only way to reform it is to put the whole matter of assessment in a State Board, with the right to appoint their local agents and assess all property at its actual cash value. If this is done 60 per cent. will be added to the present valuation and the rate can be reduced from 50 cents to 25 cents and still yield to the State a million dollars more than the present revenue.

The suggestion of the News to exempt from municipal taxation all intangible property has raised in the minds of some lawyers a question as to its constitutionality. If it is submitted to the constitution it will settle the whole question. If it is unconstitutional, then the law might provide that all intangible property, which includes bonds, stocks, cash in bank and notes, shall pay 50 instead of 35 cents on the hundred dollars in lieu of other taxes. This would add $2,000,000 to the State funds and neither hurt the cities nor the counties, and would be an absolutely fair and just provision for this character of property.

Good Suggestion.

Say! farmers, you who know that corn is high, and hogs comparatively low, let us tell you something. If you run out of meat before hog killing time have you noticed the exorbitant price you must pay for bacon at the grocery or butcher shop? Did you ever know a time, when country hams, shoulders, sides or lard, could not be sold to your local grocer at good prices? If you have a farm and hogs you certainly have a good smoke house. Why don't you cure more meat? If you have more than you can use, you can sell it readily, at any time, at prices that will pay you far better than to sell live porkers to the packers. Isn't this true?—Shelbyville Record.

Church Notes

Gov. McCreary is to address the negro Y. M. C. A. at Louisville on December 22nd.

Elder C. K. Marshall will preach at Kavanaugh school-house next Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Dr. Samuel D. Boggs, aged 68 years, one of the most prominent Presbyterian ministers in Kentucky, died at his home in Danville, following a short illness.

The 31st annual session of the Baptist Congress was held a few days ago at Grand Rapids, Mich. Prominent men and women from all over the world were in attendance and the meeting is regarded as the most interesting the Congress ever held.

The meeting at the Christian church, at Shelbyville for three weeks, closed last Saturday night with 95 additions. The meeting was conducted by Rev. E. E. Voleet. Great interest was manifested in the meeting.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of Chicago wants its members to have more privileges on the Sabbath and is making an effort to have Sunday labor penalized by increasing the wages for it. About 100 allied trades in Chicago this rule has already been adopted and has succeeded in reducing Sunday labor to a minimum.

The Rev. Dr. Henry E. Dosker, of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, in Louisville, has for some time been conducting at the 2d Presbyterian church, that city, a women's class in church history, on Thursday afternoons. Women from all churches are invited to attend and great interest is being taken in the lectures.

More than 12,000,000 American women are united in an effort to save the unbelievers in heathen lands. This announcement was made at a dinner of the Council of Protestant Women for Home Missions given in New York City.

"The general adoption of total abstinence in alcohol would undoubtedly cut in two our present expenditures for relief and correction in the United States, and would very much improve human breeding," declared President Chas. W. Elliott, of Harvard.

Lynn, Mass., with 90,000 people, recently marked up a whole day's record of "no arrests" for any cause whatever. Lynn has been without the liquor traffic for six years.

Kaiser Wilhelm said to the German Naval cadets: "The next war and the next battle will demand of you sound nerves. Victory will lie with the nation that uses the smallest amount of alcohol."

We like to show you what we have. That's the way we make friends—Lane's.

MACON, GA. CHILD

Made Strong and Well by Vinol.

When we tell you that Vinol is the best remedy in our whole stock for making weak, puny, ailing children strong, robust and rosy we are only telling you what has been proved by hundreds of mothers.

J. L. Pickling, Macon, Ga., says: "My child was very thin and delicate, no appetite, nervous, and did not sleep well. Doctors did not help her. Vinol was recommended and the change after a fair trial was wonderful. She sleeps soundly all night, has a splendid appetite and has gained in weight. I wish every mother knew what Vinol will do for delicate children."

What Vinol did for this little girl it will do for every weak and ailing child because sickly children need the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains—that is why Vinol builds them up quickly and gives them a fine, healthy color. It is pleasant to take and we guarantee that the results will satisfy you—money back if they do not.

P. S.—If you have Eczema, try our Sore Salve. We guarantee it.

B. L. Middleton, Richmond, Ky.

Short Ones.

SO THEY MARRIED.

They were engaged. Perhaps he repented; perhaps he did it only for fun. Said he:

"My darling Ethel, what would you say if I were to tell you that I cannot marry you?"

"I would say, my dearest love, that I have a big brother who would make it warm for you, and that I have some of the little sweetheart billets-doux that would make it expensive for you, George dear."

"But you know, I haven't said so, my dearest."

"I know you have not, my own pet."

"So, we had better get married had we not?"

"I think so, my precious one."

Tid-Bits.

POOR THING!

There was a little girl and she had a little curl.

Right in the middle of her forehead; But right before her beau she dropped it, and, oh, oh!

The remarks that she made—they were torrid!

LESS AND MORE.

At the meeting of the Golden Belt Medical Society, in Salina, Kan., one of the speakers got this off:

Eat less, breathe more, Talk less, think more, Ride less, walk more, Clothe less, bathe more, Worry less, work more, Waste less, give more, Preach less, practice more.

SYSTEM IN THE HOME.

Obedient Youngster—"Mother, may I speak?"

Parent—"You know that you mustn't talk at the table."

"May I not say just one thing?"

"No, my dear boy. When your father has read his paper, you may speak."

Father reads through his paper and says, kindly:

"Now, William, what is it?"

"I only wanted to say that the water pipe in the bathroom had burst!"

"Oh, George," breathed Janet, in eager excitement, "did you tell father that you had saved up $500?"

"Yes, darling."

"And what did he say?"

"He said 'Fine! You are just the man I'm looking for.'"

"Yes, yes; go on!"

"Lend it to me, will you?"

"We are going to have pie for dinner," said Bobby to the minister.

"Indeed," laughed the clergyman, amused at the little fellow's artlessness; "and what kind of pie, Bobby?"

"It's a new kind. Ma was talking this morning about pa bringing you to dinner so often, and pa said he didn't care what she thought, and ma said she'd make him eat humble pie before the day was over, and I 'spos we're going to have it for dinner."

"So that's the baby, eh?"

"That's the baby."

"Well, I hope you will bring it up to be a good, conscientious, God-fearing man."

"I am afraid that will be rather difficult."

"Pshaw! As the twig is bent, so the tree is inclined."

"I know; but the twig is bent on being a little girl, and we are inclined to let it go at that."

"I fear my boy is some trouble at college."

"Why so?"

"He says they've got him on the grid iron."

An organist had drawn up the order of a Sunday service and it was in type ready for the printing, when the death of an important personage made necessary a change. The organist telephoned to the printer and instructed him to change the postlude to "Funeral March by Chopin." This is what he found at the end of the list when he arrived at the church: "A few remarks by Chopin."

When in need of blacksmithing in any of its branches, Farming Implements, Buggies, Carriages, Wagons, Rubber tires &c, get prices from R. E. Miller, Union City, Ky.

FARM STOCK

GIVE FARM ANIMALS CHANCE

Fault of Farmer If Stock Fails to Make Profit—Opportunities Must Be Created for Them.

It isn't the fault of your stock if they fail to make a profit for you. They live up to their opportunities. How few men do!

If the pig fails to grow, it is because you have not let him. If the calf gets pot-bellied, it is not his fault. If the colt is wild and shy, is it his fault or yours? If the lamb is a scabby, ticky, good-for-nothing specimen, don't blame the lamb. If the chickens mope around with wings trailing, sit in judgment on their keeper.

The pig will use every opportunity for growth you offer. See how quickly he finds and uses a hole in the fence so he can get greener pasture. The calf will grow into a prime baby beef or fine dairy cow if you give the opportunity. The colt will be fearless and safe if you introduce him sensibly to all sorts of peculiar noises and sights. Give him the opportunity to see the world while yet a youngster. The lamb will be a frisky ball of wool and mutton if you help him get rid of the things that pester him. Give him a fair show. The chicks will grow into morning crows and cackle in a short time if they have a decent place to live in and are given the opportunity to develop.

Create opportunities for the stock that are dependent upon you. Give them a fair show and they will show you what nature does with an opportunity.

KEEPING EWES' FLEECE DRY

Of Great Importance That Sheep Be Protected From Winter Rains—Salt and Water Essential.

The protection of breeding ewes from falling snow is important, especially so it is important when it falls in the form of rain. Winter rains and also sleet are always cold. If sheep of the open-wooled breed are long exposed to these they may do great harm. The closed-wool breed, as the merinos, will be harmed much less, as the water cannot readily enter the wool that they carry. The shelter provided up to the lambing season may be of the simplest kind, providing it will protect from storms and rains.

The aim should be to give the breeding ewes large liberty in winter. If the ground is bare, or even partially, for it will do them good to give them large liberty. They will make excursions to the fields in search of grass, and the exercise will do them much good. They should be allowed to lie in a well bedded yard at night, in a shed or house adjoining, as they prefer.

The other necessary attentions include regular feeding, a supply of salt at all times accessible, and an ample supply of pure water and a yard apart from those of horses and cattle.

Feeding racks will pay for themselves in the hay saved.

Timothy fed alone is constipating, and that means trouble for the sheep.

There is no sense or profit in feeding hogs or pigs after they are fit to kill.

The price of pork should convince any person that there is profit in good hogs.

Each horse should be carefully studied and given what he requires for his health.

Every horse should be cleaned twice each year, spring and fall, and road horses more often.

There can be a great saving of hay this coming winter, on many farms, by not stuffing the horses.

Many a gelding is dosed for "kidney trouble," when the real cause of his condition is foul sheath.

The fall pig that goes into the winter in a weak, run-down condition has a life of misery ahead of him.

In making pens for winter use, do not build on too big a scale. A few hogs in a pen will do better than a few many.

The End of the World.

Predictions of the end of the world have been a source of terror to many peoples through many centuries. St. Augustine, in the fourth century, conceded only a few years of respite to the human species before the end of time. In the ninth century, in countries of continental Europe, the people began to make preparation for the destruction of the world, then prophesied to be near at hand. They abandoned their fields and their workshops, and threw themselves at the foot of the altar; they gave their goods to the churches and monasteries. The end was to come with the beginning of the thousandth year of the Christian era. The fatal day came. But the sun continued to shine in the vault of the heavens, the stars remained in their places and the people returned to their customary pursuits. But the prophets were not discouraged, and Arnaut de Villeneuve, a Frenchman, fixed the date for the finish in 1395—and again a mistake had been made in the direful horoscope. Next came Jonathan Stoffer, a German astrologer, who announced that the world would be overwhelmed by a deluge in 1521, and a worthy theologian of Toulouse constructed an ark.

In 1599 the end of the world was announced in France, and the wildest terror prevailed. Henry IV, who had not been any too good a Protestant, and was no better as a Catholic, laughed at this prediction. Then he became serious and issued an edict forbidding his subjects to talk about anti-Christ and the last judgment. The latest prophet of any note was an Italian, a monk of Padua, who died at the age of ninety, a day or two after the exaltation of Pope Leo XIII. He left a prophecy giving a list of the popes, ten in number, who should reign before the end of the world should come. And these are the names: First, the present pope, Pius X; then will come Paul VI, Pius XI, Gregory XVI, and so on, concluding with Peter II, who shall be the last pope who will occupy the papal chair when the end comes. As popes reign an average of twelve years each, the grim prophet only allows a century more of the world and then all will be over. This prophecy, however, has never been accepted with anything like the seriousness with which it was given.

Dies In Louisville.

Mr. James Rooksby, well remembered here as an important factor in the barrel factory several years ago, died in Louisville on the 9th inst., following an operation for locked bowels. Three years ago he married Miss Nancy Warren, of this city, and they soon afterwards moved to Louisville to live. He was about 34 years of age and an excellent citizen. Mrs. Rooksby is visiting Mrs. Hattie Buchanan and will in future make her home in Richmond.

MARRIED

Mr. W. S. Webb, of Duluth, in this county, and Miss Martha Jones, daughter of Jailer N. B. Jones, motored over to Lexington Tuesday evening and were united in marriage at the Phoenix Hotel by Rev. A. G. McGuire, of the Baptist church. After the ceremony the happy couple returned to this city, where they will reside for the present. The groom is associated in the merchandise business with his father at Duluth and has many friends who join in extending best wishes to him and his popular bride for a long and happy married life.

Mr. John Parrish and Miss Annie Cosby, of this county, went to Lexington on Wednesday afternoon last and were united in the holy bonds of wedlock at the parsonage of the Calvary Baptist church in that city, the pastor, Rev. T. C. Epton, officiating. The happy couple was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rose and Miss Parrish, of this city. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cosby and is very popular, with a large circle of friends. The groom is a son of Mr. Peter Parrish, and is one of Madison's best known young men. After an extensive Eastern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Parrish will return to this city to reside. The hearty congratulations of many friends are extended to the happy couple.

No more popular couple ever started out on life's journey together than Mr. William Wilson and his bride, who before her marriage last Thursday was Miss Nettie Wagers, the eldest daughter of Mr. Jonah Wagers. The ceremony was said by Rev. E. B. Barnes and was quiet and impressive, being witnessed by only the immediate families. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left at once for his home at Kirksville, where they will go to housekeeping.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, formerly of Estill county, but for a number of years has lived in this county. He is a grandson of the late Capt. John Wilson, the hero of the battle of Lookout Mountain. Mr. Wilson is a young man of sterling worth, possessing fine business qualifications, and is in every way worthy of the young lady of his choice. His bride is the embodiment of all the lovely and lovable traits that go to make elegant, refined womanhood. She is a girl whom to know is to love, and thrice lucky is the man who claims her as his own. May the love which began in childhood and which has reached happy wedlock, flow on through a long, happy life, making it one grand, sweet song.

Mr. Haden Expires Suddenly.

The death Wednesday evening of Mr. Geo. Haden, at his home near Million, came as a great shock and surprise to his relatives and friends. Mr. Haden had been complaining for about two weeks of not feeling well, yet he was never sufficiently ill as to render him bedfast and on Wednesday was thought to be considerably improved. Late in the afternoon deceased was reclining on a couch and his faithful wife went to his side, being attracted by his heavy breathing, and reached the afflicted man just as life passed out. Mr. Haden was one of the best known farmers of that section of the county, where he had spent a life of 60 years. He was a member of the Christian church and well liked by all who knew him. He is survived by his wife and one child. Funeral services were conducted Thursday morning by Rev. O. J. Young, followed by interment in the family burying ground near his late home.

Count Your Cattle.

Some parties brought a number of fine beef hides to Wm. Stillman's place this week and offered them for sale. Mr. Stillman became suspicious and began questioning the men. They left immediately without making a sale. Later the hides were found over the fence near the Clark's Run crossing, on the Stanford pike. Officers think it possible that the parties had stolen the cattle, butchered them and then offered the hides for sale. Large cattle owners should count their cattle.—Danville Advocate.

H. S. Caywood, of North Middletown, bought 150 head of cattle at 8c for spring delivery from Robt. C. Gatewood, of Montgomery county.

A. K. McCown delivered to John F. Wagers Saturday 71 250-pound hogs, purchased some time ago at 73-4c. This was the first bunch of hogs to go out of Madison this season.

John E. Madden, master of Hamburg Place, near Lexington, shipped 200 fat cattle to the Eastern market. They were fed at Madden's place and averaged about 1,200.

Most of the thousands of cattle that were held at Fort Erie, Ontario, for the American tariff to be removed were unfit for beef and will have to be fattened in the United States.

Jas. R. Magowan, of Mt. Sterling, sold to Mr. Maw, of Austria, the widely-known trotting mares, Ann Direct, 2:10-45, and Neva Todd, 2:13-3-4. Both are in foal. They brought $2,000. These mares will go to Austria.

At McKee Bros.' sale of Duroc-Jersey hogs, at Versailles last week, 51 head of sows and gilts sold for an average of $73.40; 13 sows bred to Defender averaging $164. Buyers were present from Kentucky, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and other States.

There were about 1,000 cattle on the Mt. Sterling market Monday, with the best 800-pound steers selling at 7c. The bulk of sales were around 6-1-2c; heifers 5-1-2 to 6c; cows 5 to 5-1-2 and bulls about same figure. Small crowd and trading slow.

A Dubois county, Indiana, farmer sold to another farmer 13 hogs affected with cholera. The purchaser turned them with his own herd of one hundred head and they took the disease and almost all of them died. He sued and recovered a verdict for $800 damages.

The distinction of marketing the record-priced cattle of the year in the Blue Grass belongs to President Clarence LeBus, of the Burley Tobacco Society, who sold to Campbell & Lamasters, of Henry county, 57 fancy Christmas beavers at $1-2 straight. The bunch averaged 1,602 pounds and 30 head from "Vinata Farm" averaged 1,657 pounds, bringing $140-71 per head.

The importation of beef cattle from the Argentina, Canada, and other countries under the new tariff, has not perceptibly changed retail prices of meat. The number of cattle that it is possible to ship from those countries is too small to make any material difference in the United States.

R. H. Crow bought of Col. J. O. Kerfoot, of Elizabethtown, a boar sired by Tom Chief 43,101, dam o Col. King sow. The gilt by Cherry Tenn., that sold for $1,000, out of a sow by Superba and Defender dam.—J. N. Wright sold to M. S. Baughman ten fat meat hogs, averaging 345 pounds, at 8c.—Danville Messenger.

The corn and tobacco crops in general all over the country the past season were very inferior, and in consequence seed corn and tobacco seed next spring will be in great demand and at a premium. In view of this fact, farmers should begin making arrangements for their seed early, before they are called upon to pay exorbitant prices. Overhaul your corn and see if any of it is available for seed-purposes; if not, make arrangements with your neighbor. Do not put this matter off, or you may have to pay exorbitant prices later.

The Department of Agriculture has seized two large shipments of stock feed, based upon the finding of the bureau of chemistry that feed was mixed with sand. It is bad enough to attempt to defraud and injure human beings with adulterated food, as a man or a child chewing sand can make a complaint and seek a remedy. It is a consolation to know that there is a department of the government that purposes to protect beast as well as men and prevent those who would from imposing on the helpless.

Special Mattress Sale

On the Celebrated Come See them in our Windows

We have arranged for a Special Sale

On the celebrated Stearns & Foster Mattress and are offering this most Comfortable, Durable and Sanitary of all Mattresses, in selected patterns of the best qualities of Satin-finish, Dust-proof Tickings—WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE.

Beware of so-called "Special Sales" on "Cotton-felt" or "Felt" Mattresses—said to be the "genuine kind" and offered at such ridiculously low prices as are sometimes seen displayed. You do not know WHAT sort of material has been hastily STUFFED into the ticking. From a Sanitary standpoint, it may be vile; unfit for any person to sleep upon. As for genuine Comfort and Durability, such Mattresses are utterly worthless. It don't pay to buy them.

Stearns & Foster Mattresses have a laced opening (Pat. applied for) through which you can see and examine the inside of the Mattress you GET. That's the safe way to buy a Mattress. You know what you are getting.

Stearns & Foster Mattresses are made of Clean, Sanitary Cotton; felted into hundreds of little webs forming many Springy, Buoyant layers standing nearly three feet high. These layers are then LAID BY HAND and compressed to ONE-SIXTH their original height and encased in the ticking; then tufted to just the proper tension so as to be Soft, yet Firm, half yielding to your figure, but supporting it in perfect relaxation.

You will say—

"I never Knew a Mattress could be so Comfortable."

That's just what satisfied users of Stearns & Foster Mattresses are saying. You owe it to yourself to get one and enjoy rest that is Refreshing—Comfortable—Healthful.

You don't have to be put to the expense and inconvenience of sending a Stearns & Foster Mattress away to be "Made Over" or "Renovated." They never require it. An occasional Sun Bath keeps them fresh and clean.

Don't Fail to attend this Sale. Come today.

Select the Mattress you want—NOW. Don't put up longer with that old uncomfortable Mattress.

TO THE TOBACCO GROWERS OF MADISON AND ADJOINING COUNTIES:

We have sold over our floors thus far over three-quarters of a million pounds of the new crop Surley tobacco and while we have not reached the extreme top notch price for separate baskets, we have had a better general average than we had last year. We have every reason to believe that after the holidays an active market with strong to increasing prices may be looked for.
The following are some of our best prices: Coy & Curtis, general average $18.00; Coy and Prewitt, average $18.00; Ellswick & Curtis, average $20.25, one basket brought $16; Forrest Calico, average $17.75; Jerry Noland, average $18.00.
We have never made statements to mislead anyone, make no claims but those founded on facts. We wish again to repeat:
First, that we give every seller an absolutely square deal whether he sells thousands of pounds or hundreds of pounds.
Second, that we can, and do, get just as much for your tobacco as any house in the world for same grades.
Third, that we have plenty of room for you and your teams.
Fourth, that we have an up to date commodious warehouse with every known facility for handling tobacco.
Our two houses are connected by a viaduct, the old house being used as a pricing plant where several of the largest buyers of tobacco purchased in this market. We have had four years' experience in the loose leaf tobacco business which is worth a good deal to you but costs you not a penny.
We urge you if you have never sold with us to ask any one who has, if our treatment does not warrant every claim we make and we ask you to compare our prices with those of any other house in the country. If our claims are true, just get in line with the crowd and bring your tobacco to us. December 19, will be our last sale before the holidays but tobacco will be received at any time and sales will be resumed December 29.
Thanking you for your confidence and your business, we are
Very truly yours,

Central Ky. House	Dan Scott, Henry Walker, R. L. Baker,

The five houses of the Lexington Tobacco Warehouse Co., Incorporated, have saved their customers the past week about one-half their selling charges on their tobacco. The Lexington market sold last week 3,104,935 pounds at a general average of $12.42 per hundred pounds. Our five house sold 1,018,470 pounds of this amount at a general average of $12.60 per hundred pounds, making a net gain for our customers of 18 cents per hundred pounds. This proves to the tobacco raisers what it means for them to let experienced tobacco men sell their tobacco for them. The following crops will give you an idea of some of the averages made the past week:

Yarrington & Seythe, Fayette county, 1,915 pounds, average $18.75; Showalter & Burk, Scott county, 8,515 pounds, average $17.31; Reeves & McCoy, Garrard county, 3,580 pounds, average $16.48; Onstott & Simpson, Garrard county, 4,700 pounds, average $16.90; Mattingly & Carter, Jessamine county, 3,300 pounds at $16.00; Prewitt & Kelley, Madison county, 2,095 pounds, average $15.75; John D. Simpson, Madison county, 2,450 pounds, average $15.21.

The market closed for the holidays on Friday, December 19, and will open again on Monday, December 29, and we expect heavier sales from now on. All of our houses are open every day, both day and night, ready to receive your tobacco. It means just as much to us as it does to you to get you high prices for your tobacco, for we want to send you home a satisfied customer. Bring your tobacco in during Christmas week, so you can have it on sale the opening day.

Should you want any further information call us over the phone Lexington No. 964. JAMES C. STONE, PRESIDENT

RICHMOND, KY., Dec. 20, 1913

TO THE TOBACCO GROWERS OF MADISON AND ADJOINING COUNTIES:

We have sold over our floors thus far over three-quarters of a million pounds of the new crop Burley tobacco and while we have not reached the extreme top notch price for separate baskets, we have had a better general average than we had last year. We have every reason to believe that after the holidays an active market with strong to increasing prices may be looked for.

We have never made statements to mislead anyone, make no claims but those founded on facts. We wish again to repeat:

First, that we give every seller an absolutely square deal whether he sells thousands of pounds or hundreds of pounds.

Second, that we can, and do, get just as much for your tobacco as any house in the world for same grades.

Third, that we have plenty of room for you and your teams.

Fourth, that we have an up to date commodious warehouse with every known facility for handling tobacco.

Our two houses are connected by a viaduct, the old house being used as a pricing plant where several of the largest buyers prize all tobacco purchased in this market. We have had four years experience in the loose leaf tobacco business which is worth a good deal to you but costs you not a penny. We urge you if you have never sold with us to ask any one who has, if our treatment does not warrant every claim we make and we ask you to compare our prices with those of any other house in the country. If our claims are true, just get in line with the crowd and bring your tobacco to us. December 19, will be our last sale before the holidays but tobacco will be received at any time and sales will be resumed December 29.

Thanking you for your confidence and your business, we are

Very truly yours,

MADISON TOBACCO WAREHOUSE CO.

A conservative estimate puts the total worth of the jewels of New York City at $500,000,000. This is more than twice the value of the buildings of all the universities in this country.

The Panama Canal was actually open from end to end last Wednesday. The dredges have removed the Culebra slide sufficiently to permit the passage of medium sized vessels.

The trial of eight officials and employees of the Western Fuel Co., charged with defrauding the Government by making false returns on coal imported, was begun in San Francisco Tuesday.

All the property of Luis Terrazas, Enrique Creel and Juan Creel, including banks, mines, vast areas of land, cattle and personal effects, was ordered confiscated to rebels by a decree issued by Gen. Villa.

A sweeping declaration in favor of Government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines and the assertion that the postal service is now self-supporting for the first time since 1883 are features of the annual report of Postmaster General Burleson.

Geo. Voorhies, a former Confederate soldier, and one of the best known citizens of Lexington, father of Mrs. Jas. B. Haggin, of New York, owner of the El mendorf estate, died Sunday night at the home of Mr. Haggin, in New York. He was 76 years old and had been in bad health for two years.

Mrs. Lillie Fish, of Nicholasville, wife of the late Dr. Fish, of that city, died at a hospital in Lexington, Tuesday night, from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Fish was about fifty-five years old. The remains were taken to Nicholasville where interment took place Thursday.

Dorothy, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Fields, of Jessamine county, was burned to death at their home at Keene. The mother had gone to see a sick neighbor and left the child with the other children. The little one was playing in the fire, when its dress caught on fire.

"Mona Lisa," Leonardo da Vinci's great painting, stolen from the Louvre in Paris by a fanatical Italian, is on exhibition in Florence for a short time, by consent of the French government. No amount of money will buy this painting by the great Italian master. It is said that the British government once offered $5,000,000 for it.

After engaging a room at the Leland Hotel, Lexington, and draining a bottle of laudanum, J. W. McNelson, telephone lineman, telephoned a friend good-bye before falling on the bed to die. The message saved his life, for the night clerk overheard him say he had swallowed poison, and promptly summoned a physician.

Burglars entered the office of the Standard Oil Co. at Covington and were greatly displeased when they found that the $100,000,000 corporation had nothing in the office worth taking, as this note shows: "Gentlemen—Next time we get in here and find nothing in the safe we will burn this building. Leave $5 in the safe or we will burn the building."

Postmaster General Burleson told a Kentucky Congressman that he will not recommend a "dead beat" to any office.

"Few die and none resign." This aphorism regarding government employees brings to mind the death of Archie Lewis, colored, who was in charge of the robing-room of the Justices of the Supreme Court at Washington. He held the position 64 years.

ROMANOFF LINE NEARS END

Outlook for the Reigning Family in Russia is Growing Increasingly Gloomy.

London.—The Russian dynasty is in imminent danger of dying out and the present Emperor Nicholas is likely to be the last of the Romanoffs to occupy the imperial throne, according to a writer in "Free Russia," a newspaper appearing here. He says: "The young Alexis, the emperor's only son, is suffering from an incurable disease—tuberculosis of the bones. It is said—and can only be kept alive a few months longer. The emperor himself has become the victim of fits of melancholy. His consort, the unfortunate empress, is still suffering acutely from a complete nervous breakdown. The question arises, therefore, who will be the heir of Nicholas the Second, or will he be the last of the autocrats of Russia? The daughters of Nicholas cannot ascend the throne because Paul I., who hated his august mother, Catherine the Great, made a law whereby it became impossible for a woman to reign in Russia. Therefore, in case of the demise of Nicholas II, the throne should fall to his brother Michael. But this is hardly possible, since he has renounced all his rights and has married morganatically a Russian lady with whom he lives very happily far from court intrigues."

The writer then discusses the grand dukes, but finds insuperable objections to all of them.

BIG CATASTROPHES IN 1914?
Mme. Thebes Takes a Billious Squint Into Europe's Future—Flood for London.
Paris.—Among Mme. Thebes's predictions of 1914 are:
The planet Mars will predominate, with war always menacing.
England will suffer critical perils in India.
London will be threatened by floods, a terrible catastrophe taking place as a result of the inundations, which will arouse the pity of the whole civilized world.
Portugal is to see a restoration of the monarchy.
Austria will be sorely tried with rioting; there will be bloodshed and fire in the streets of Vienna; the situation will be even worse than that in Hungary, and the Austro-Hungarian dynasty will be in grave peril.
Germany will experience a severe upheaval, bringing profound changes in the character of her national life.
Italy will witness a new pope, who will be friendlier to the monarchy.
It will be the good fortune of Russia to promote peace in the Balkans. France is to be afflicted with scandals, riots, bloodshed and industrial troubles in the northeast.
Paris will have a favorable year.
No disaster is prophesied for America.

MENAGERIE FALLS 700 FEET

Sheep, Pig, Goose and Hen Make Trip in Parachute From Captive Balloon.

Paris.—A menagerie consisting of a rabbit, a hen, pigeons, a goose, a sheep and a pig fell from the clouds near the Eiffel Tower in a cage attached to a new form of parachute, which was dropped from a captive balloon.

The cage struck the ground with some force, but when the doors were opened the animals walked or flew out apparently none the worse for their 700 feet fall, with the exception of the sheep, which seemed dazed and lay motionless on the ground.

No Longer "Physical Culture."

At a recent meeting of the Kentucky Physical Education Society the term "physical culture" was declared "cheap and tawdry," and all newspaper men and public speakers are earnestly requested to discontinue the use of such a term, using therefor the correct expression "physical education," "physical training," or "gymnastics." You must therefore cut out your "physical culture," if you do not wish to be classed as "cheap and tawdry."

The Billion-Dollar Hen.

The little old singing and unpretentious American hen now gets in the class with our billion-dollar Congress, the billion-dollar cotton crop, with its by-products and other of the outputs and assets that have won for America the nickname of the billion-dollar country of civilization. W. R. F. Priebe, of the National Poultry, Butter and Egg Association, is authority for the statement that eggs to the value of that prodigious amount are sold annually in America. That is not to reckon the great loss by breakage in transit.—Atlanta Constitution.

Croup and Cough Remedy.

Croup is a terrible disease. It attacks children so suddenly they are very apt to choke unless given the proper remedy at once. There is nothing better in the world than Dr. King's New Discovery, Lewis Chamberlain, of Manchester, O., writes about his children: "Sometimes severe attacks we were afraid they would die, but since proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup, coughs and colds." So can you. 50c and $1. A bottle should be in every home. At all druggists, H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.

The Cost of Drunkenness.

A writer to the New York World says: "Speculate as you may about the high cost of living, the reason is self-evident. The fact that it takes $2,000,000,000 a year to pour whisky down the throats of people who are thereby rendered inefficient to earn their own living, become a drag on others, cause an immense outlay of funds for prosecution of crimes, and necessitate the building and keeping of jails, poorhouses, penitentiaries, prisons; the maintenance of prisoners; the fees of constables, aldermen, lawyers, judges, sheriffs, physicians and undertakers—this fact, I say, is reason enough for the high cost of living. You whisky-drinking men and advocates, keep up and pay your high prices and let your grumbling cut out your licensed liquor traffic and lower prices would quickly result. That $2,000,000,000 is worse than thrown in the fire, for it is producing nothing—it does produce ten times that amount of misery, idleness and suffering. Why not stop the remedy?"

Cottage For Rent.

BUT HE DIDN'T.

"Well, well," said the doctor as he met Green on the street, "let me congratulate you. Got fatter? No, filled out, and looking like a new man. I told you what a month in the country would do for you."

"Yes?"

"You have surely gained ten pounds since I advised you to go."

"Yes, I think so."

"And your indigestion is gone?"

"All gone."

"And no more stomach troubles?"

"Not a bit."

"Good. Aren't you glad you took my advice?"

"But I didn't, doctor. Instead of going to the country I stayed right home and worked fourteen hours a day, took a PEPSINAID Tablet after each meal and ate everything that was placed before me. Nothing like it for indigestion, Dyspepsia, and other disorders arising from faulty digestion. Recommend them to your other patients every time."

A Classic From Woodrow Wilson.

Woodrow Wilson's reply to a body of suffragists who urged that he recommend women's suffrage to Congress, was a classic, both in thought and expression. He said:

"Whenever I walk abroad I realize I am not a free man, I am under arrest. I am so carefully and admirably guarded that I have not even the privilege of walking the streets. That is, as it were, typical of my present transference from being an individual, with his mind on any and every subject to being an official of a great government, and incidentally or so it falls out under our system of Government, the spokesman of a party."

"I set myself this very strict rule when I was governor of New Jersey, and have followed it as president—and shall follow it as president—that I am not at liberty to urge upon Congress, in messages, policies which have not had the organic consideration of those for whom I am spokesman."

"In other words, I have not yet presented to any legislature my private views on any subject, and never shall, because I conceive that to be part of the whole process of the government, that I shall be spokesman for somebody, not for myself. It would be an impertinence. When I speak to myself, I am an individual; when I am spokesman of an organic body, I am a representative."

"For that reason, you see, I am by my own principles shut out, in the language of the street, from 'starting anything.' I have to confine myself to those things which have been embodied as promises to the people at an election. This is the strict rule I set for myself."

"I want to say with regard to all other matters, I am not only glad to be consulted by my colleagues in the two houses, but I hope they will often pay me the compliment of consulting me when they want to know my opinion on any subject. One member of the Rules Committee did come to me and ask me what I thought about this suggestion of yours of appointing a special committee of the House, as the Senate has already appointed a special committee for the consideration of woman's suffrage, and I told him that I thought it was the proper thing to do."

"So, that so far as my personal advice has been asked by a single member of the committee, it has been given to that effect. I want to tell you that to show that I am strictly living up to my principles. When my private opinion is asked by those co-operating with me, I am most glad to give it, but I am not at liberty until I speak for somebody to side myself to urge legislation upon the Congress."

GEORGETOWN, TEXAS. J. A. Kimbro, says: "For several years past Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been my household remedy for all coughs, colds, and lung troubles. It has given permanent relief in a number of cases of obstinate coughs and colds." Contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes.

Time Will Tell.

A few days ago an Eastern man wrote a friend in Washington and asked him whether he thought the Wilson administration a success. The friend replied: "It is too early to say as yet whether the administration has succeeded. But Wilson is a success."

He then explained that President Wilson is succeeding in doing the things he promised to do, and added: "Whether the administration is a success, however, depends upon whether the Democratic philosophy is economically correct. The people took the party at its word. Wilson is carrying out the pledge consistently. The character of Mr. Wilson himself gives the greatest hope to his friends that he will prove to be right. But time will prove that."

There is no denying that the President has won the country by his sincerity in doing what he promised to do and accept the full responsibility the people placed on him; hence personally he has succeeded. The big questions to come up during the next three years are questions about which even big men differ. If the Democratic attitude on these questions proves to be correct by actual application, the Democratic administration will have been justified. If the Democrats are proved to be wrong in their economic policies, then, of course, President Wilson's fine character, honesty and great ability will not save the administration.—Paducah News-Democrat.

LIVE STOCK

CAUTION AT FARROWING TIME

Animal Should Be Carefully Watched and Fed on Slop Ration—Supply Fresh, Dry, Clean Bedding.

A few days before farrowing the sow should be placed in a clean, roomy pen in the central hog house or in a special portable house.

When the udder of the sow becomes distended and milk can be drawn from the teats she may be expected to farrow in 24 hours. She should then be closely watched and fed a slop ration rather than a dry feed, to keep her bowels open. She should have a medium supply of fresh, dry, clean, dustless bedding. Barley straw or wood shavings should be avoided.

Little pigs are very sensitive to cold and if they arrive during cold weather they must be given special attention. If a litter is farrowed in a small portable house the air may be considerably warmed by hanging a lantern from the ceiling, and doors will add greatly to the comfort of the animals.

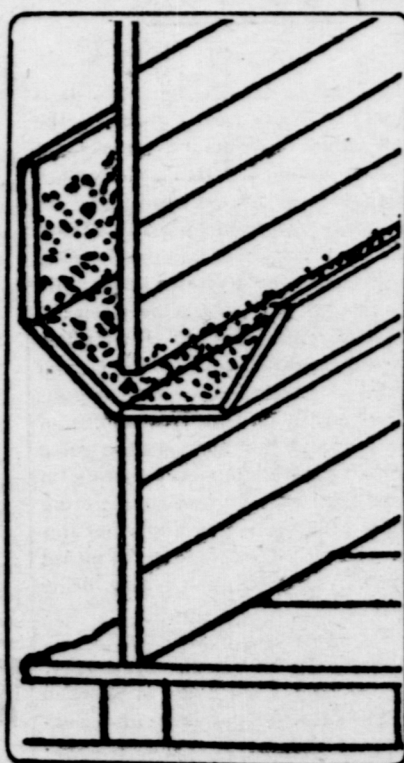

In a large hog house it is best practice to put the little pigs as soon as farrowed into a tight wooden box with clean straw and cover the box with a blanket. The pigs will nestle together and keep themselves warm. Should the weather be extremely cold hot bricks may be put in the bottom of the box and covered with an old blanket with dry straw on top for the pigs to rest in. Little pigs should be kept in the box for 24 hours longer, taking them out for a short time every two hours to nurse.

A sow should be kept quiet and fed little, if at all, during the first 24 hours after farrowing. She may be given a drink of water, followed by a light bran mash. The feed is then gradually increased to the tenth day, when a full ration may be fed. By thus being careful milk fever in the sow and scours in the pigs are prevented.

TROUGH FOR GREEDY HORSES

When Animal Does Not Grind Its Feed Thoroughly Box May Be Arranged Like Illustration.

To prevent the greedy animal from eating so fast that it does not grind its grain well, the feed box may be arranged like the one shown here. The box is built on both sides of the partition with only a narrow opening at the bottom. The feed is put into the outside half of the box and runs through the small opening slowly, says the Wisconsin Agriculturist. Grain is thus fed more economically and to greater advantage, as it cannot be bolted quickly by the hungry or over eager horse. A slide on the outside can easily be arranged to regulate the size of the opening through which the grain passes to the inner feed box.

Feed Box for Greedy Horse.

TREATMENT FOR LUMPY JAW

Removal of Growth While in Tissues by Use of Knife is Considered Satisfactory Method.

The most satisfactory way of treating lumpy jaw is to remove the growth with a knife when in the tissues only. The animal is thrown; the skin is cut over the tumor, and the swelling removed by cutting around it in the healthy tissues. If hemorrhage is large the vessel may be tied or taken up with the forceps; bleeding from smaller vessels may be seared with a red-hot iron.

The wound should be washed with an antiseptic in one per cent. solution after the tumor is removed, and then packed with antiseptic gauze or cotton, and the wound stitched up. The next day remove the stitches and treat as an open wound.

Segregate Cattle and Horses.

Cattle and horses should not run together and be shut in the same small corral together. It may be all right to pasture them together, but in the corral, particularly during the cold weather, one is liable to hurt the other. Horses will run the cattle and cattle may hook the horses.

Not Beyond Help At 87.

Sleep-disturbing bladder weakness, stiffness in joints, weak, inactive kidney action and rheumatic pains, are all evidence of kidney trouble. Mrs. Mary A. Dean, 47 E. Walnut St., Taunton, Mass., writes: "I have passed my 87th birthday, and thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley's Kidney Pills have proved most beneficial in my case."

Shoe Shining By Machinery.

The business of shoe shining as it is now conducted will soon be a thing of the past if a new invention which has lately appeared in Europe proves popular. By means of this new device you are enabled to walk up to a huge slot machine, drop in your nickel, insert your shoe in a groove provided for the purpose and get a first-class shine by electric motor with all the speed and efficiency which such a method suggests. It is said that the machine will hand out a completed shine or polish in about half the time usually required at the old-time shoe shining parlor.

True Love.

The course of true love never did and never can run smooth. If it did it would not be true love. The single certain sine qua non of true love is that it shall not run smooth. For such is the constitution of human nature.

When people set out to be friendly and congenial they can succeed only by keeping up a gentle hostility. Consider the average evening call. How tiresome it is until some one starts an argument, or a game of cards is proposed. That accounts for the popularity of games. They furnish a sham and innocuous hostility without which society with one's fellows is deadly. Men and women can be happy together for days at a time if they are contending at golf, at tennis, at cards or at other games.

Uncle Sam's Farms.

The opening of the Fort Peck Indian Reservation recently was called one of the last great drawings of land Uncle Sam can hold; he is not nearly at the end of his spare land, however.

There remains 682,000,000 acres of public lands. More than half these are in Alaska, but there is in the old United States enough land to make ten States the size of New York.

Rather more than enough land to make a Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island was patented in the fiscal year of 1911-12.

The remaining land if it were all available, would support a sparse grazing population of 15,000,000, not counting some millions more in the cities created thereby; or a denser farming population of 60,000,000.

Of course, it is not all available. Much of the land will apparently always remain worthless. Much can be made useful by drainage, dry-farming, terracing or irrigation. The proportion of land so reclaimed will depend upon economic conditions and the pressure of population. But there is certainly room for some millions more of farming population upon public lands.

Constipation Poisons You.

Warden Wells Exonerated.

Expressing every confidence in Warden A. J. Wells, the prison commissioner, through Dan E. O. Sullivan, chair man, issued this statement:

"The Board of Prison Commissioners at its meeting Monday took up the charges brought by former Assistant Deputy Warden R. L. White against Warden A. J. Wells, of the State Reformatory and made a thorough investigation of every accusation. The affidavits of 61 guards and prison officials were secured by the board and, without exception, White's charges were shown to be false."

A Little Help Helps.

Every newspaper wants to publish the news. The better the paper the more prosperous it will be. Local newsmen are especially hard to run down. How many times have you, dear reader, been approached by the newspaper reporter for an item of news and told him that you knew nothing of interest. Probably at the time your family were away on a visit, or some one from out of town was visiting at your home. Of course you didn't mean to deceive the scribe, yet when you received your paper you wondered why your family or friends were not mentioned. A good way to avoid all this is to kindly inform us of the facts or drop us a note in the post-office to the paper. The one item may not amount to much, but several columns of such news is the life of the local paper. See?

Guarding Against Croup.

The best safeguard against croup is a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house. P. H. Ginn, Middletown, Ga., writes: "My children are very susceptible to croup, easily catch cold. I give them Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and in every instance they get prompt relief and are soon cured. We keep it at home and prevent croup."

WILL BE THERE.

During revival meetings in a Western city, placards giving notices of the various meetings, subjects, etc., were posted in conspicuous places. One day the following was displayed:

Subject: "Hell; its Location and its Absolute Certainty."
"Thomas Jones, barytone, will sing 'Tell Mother I'll Be There.'"

Hegan--"I think Miss de Blank is very rude."
Jones--"What causes you to think that?"

Hegan--"I met her out for a walk this afternoon and asked if I might see her home. She said yes, I could see her from the top of the high school building, and that it wasn't necessary for me to go any further."--The United Presbyterian.

Stomach Troubles Disappear.

Stomach, liver and kidney troubles, weak nerves, lame back and female ills disappear when Electric Bitters are used. Thousands of women would not be without a bottle in their home. Eliza Pool, of Deper, Okla., writes: "Electric Bitters raised me from a bed of sickness and suffering and has done me a world of good. I wish every suffering woman could use this excellent remedy and find out, as I did, just how good it is." As it has helped thousands of others, it surely will do the same for you. Every bottle guaranteed. 50c and $1. At all druggists. H. E. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.

Dedicate New Hall At Berea.

Knapp Hall, a building for the training of rural teachers in connection with Berea College, was dedicated Tuesday. Some of the most noted educators in the country were on the program. The morning program, besides the principal address by Carroll G. Pearce, President of the Milwaukee Normal School, consisted of a welcome address by President Frost, of Berea College; response by Barksdale Hamlett, Superintendent of Kentucky Public Instruction, and a congratulatory address by President Crabbe, of the Eastern Kentucky Normal School. John B. McFerrer, of Louisville; President Wood, of Cumberland College; President Lewis, of the Sue Bennett Memorial School, and A. C. Monahan, of the Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., also were on the program of the day.

50 CENTS. ANY DRUG STORE

In different sections of the State much interest is being shown in the country people by the residents of the cities. Some weeks ago we noticed an account a delightful day which the city of Bowling Green had given the rural dwellers of Warren county. The tillers of the soil were invited guests of the city and were given the best of entertainment and made to feel welcome and at home. Just the other day, our neighbor city of Lancaster did herself proud in arranging a "big day" for the farmers of Garard county, and that town will not stop with one day, but is arranging others equally as entertaining. It is a movement to be applauded and one which will be far-reaching in its results. The present-day feeling existing between the inhabitants of cities and those of rural districts is one of the closest friendship and the movement, starting perhaps as it did with the Farmers' Chautauquas of last summer, will be a powerful factor in the uplifting and betterment of both city and rural conditions. Let the good work go on, and let our own city and others fall in line and keep step with those who are for a closer union of country and city.

THE City of Washington does not have aldermen and a city council as other cities have, but the laws governing Washington are passed by Congress and signed by the President, and in that respect he acts as mayor. Whenever a measure is brought up in Congress affecting the liquor traffic of the District of Columbia the Senators and Representatives in the majority of cases cast their votes, not the way they really feel about the matter, but they cast those votes solely for the effect that they will have at home among their constituents; and so Washington does not and cannot get the laws that she ought to have.

The Lexington Herald.

Do you realize Mr. Farmer, what it is worth to you to know each morning the market value of your live stock and other farm products? Don't you realize that ignorance of market conditions for one day only, might mean many dollars to you? Is not your national pride strong enough to force the desire to know daily the phases of the trouble between the United States and Mexico? Only a few days ago Admiral Fletcher of the United States Navy threatened to turn the guns of his battleship on the Mexican city of Tampico unless the fighting then going on between the rebels and Federals in the streets of that city, and endangering the lives of our citizens and other foreigners, ceased. This would have meant war, and any act on any day may bring this result.

THE LEXINGTON HERALD, the leading daily of Central Kentucky, is now offering a mail rate of $5 when paid in advance, for the daily and Sunday issue for one year. Why not subscribe now and see that you are kept posted on what is doing in all the world, including your own neighborhood news.

Catarrh Trouble Ended-- Use Hyomei.

YOU BREATHE IT--NO STOMACH DOSING--CLEANS THE HEAD.

Use nature's remedy for catarrh or cold in the head; one that is harmless, yet quick and effective. It is the healing oil and balsams of Hyomei which you breathe through a small pocket inhaler. This curative and antiseptic air reaches the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing the catarrhal germs, stopping the offensive breath, raising of mucus, dropping in the throat, crusts in the nose and all other catarrhal symptoms. The complete outfit costs only $1.00, and B. L. Middleton will return your money if not satisfied. Do not continue to suffer catarrhal ills--try Hyomei now--to-day.

The Newspaper Man.

At a recent dinner of the "Old Guard" in the New York Press Club, Jones E. Whitley, a veteran newspaper man read the following:

I am IT, every day in the year and many times a day.

I am always on the job, twenty-four hours a day, and some overtime.

I am at everybody's service, but own no man as master.

I attend to everybody's business, for I make their business my business.

I am omnipresent, and I think omniscient.

I never had the lid on, for with me day and night are as one.

I speak all the languages and there is not a corner of the globe where I am not busy.

I make and unmake kings and Statesmen, and there is none too exalted to sit up and take notice.

I make most of the trouble that's afloat, by speaking right out in meeting, and no man can say to me nay.

I make and unmake millionaires, but am often glad to borrow a dime.

I am the last product of civilization, and now lead the all human agencies of progress.

I whisper and the whole world listens, but anyone with the price can get aboard and ride with me.

I am the cheapest thing you buy and am quite sure the best.

I play all parts in turn, and nothing long, funerals and feasts, fights and frolics. I am at home with all.

I am the reviewing officer before whom the whole human family makes its never-ending parade.

I am a hail-fellow with all saints and sinners alike, for all furnish grist to my ever turning mill.

I am no woman, yet I always have the last word.

I am everything you know or dream of, for

I am the newspaper man.

The Man Who Neglects Himself.

When his condition points to kidney trouble takes an unwise risk. Backache, pain and soreness over the kidneys, nervous or dizzy spells, poor sleep, are all symptoms that will disappear with the regular use of Foley's Kidney Pills. They put the kidneys and bladder in a clean strong and healthy condition.

The Spreader Sensation of the Year.
We Have the Agency For It. It Is the

Steel Frame Low Spread Manure Spreader

Have you ever seen any spreader with more or as many good features? Waist high box--easy to load; makes the shortest turns and spreads evenly at corners; spreads when turning either way; positive force feed--no rolling forward of the load when the manure is moved toward the beater; even spreading until the last forkful is spread; made in seven sizes, wide and narrow boxes; special attachments for drilling and spreading lime.

Ask us also about our new wide spread attachment which scatters manure over an area eight feet wide--a very handy and convenient device for top dressing growing corn.

The next time you are in town stop and get a catalogue. Ask us to show you this machine--to show you how it will save work and increase profits. Give us a chance to prove that the Low Spread tops them all.

OLDHAM & HARBER

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvia Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without
